

FREEING THE HEART

February 29-March 1, 2020

Are you unable to stay connected to your whole-hearted self day to day? Do you get blindsided by your Enneagram Type fixations and passions in these times? Do you suffer with repeating patterns that block you from your authenticity?

Through the lens of the Enneagram, you will work on softening your ego defenses by exploring the origins of your Fixation and passion. We will also help you develop a deeper appreciation for the coping strategies you developed so many years ago.

Psychodrama and other experiential methods make this a unique workshop to dive into for a more "felt-sense" of your shadow and the gifts it carries. It is through accepting both of these that you find freedom.

This workshop is for those of you who know your Type and have knowledge of your Enneagram fixations and passions; You can then begin to build a deeper level of acceptance and compassion with your suffering; to develop your role as your vulnerable authentic self; and create new boundaries around critical thoughts of yourself and others.

Saturday and Sunday, February 29 - March 1, 2020
